MILITARY AGRICULTURE.

PROPOSITION TO ABOLISH THE WEEKLY PRESS.

Jeduthan Jeems Indorses the Proposal, with Citations from Graveyard Literature.

Correspondence of the News.

MT. GILEAD P. O., May 10.—A little while ago I wrote to Colonel L. L. Polk, "the Honorable Commissioner and Board of Agriculture," as he styles himself, at Raleigh, about some pretty tall statements which I found in that new advertising book which he has put out. I thought there must be something wrong about them, and, sure enough, the "Colonel" writes back to me and says this one is a mistake of the printer, and that one was a mistake in proof-reading, and the other was a typographical error. Of course, this was all satisfactory, as far as it went, and put my mind entirely at ease upon those particular points, but left me in a state of annoying uncertainty as to the rest of the book. I can't well write him about every particular fact and figure in the book, and if I did, I suppose he might get tired of answering. So, how am I to tell whether a story that reminds me of Mr. Munchausen's history is veritable fact, or some sort of a mistake?

I'M AN OLD MAN,

and have not very long to live, but I would like to know the bottom facts of these matters for once. I'm much in the condition of Dr. Samuel Johnson, who, after he had read a book of African explorations, remarked to Boswell that not more than half of it was true. "Then," said Boswell, "let us believe the half." "Ah, there's the difficulty," said the great moralist; "we don't know which half to believe." Couldn't you suggest to the military head of the "Department" (?) of Agriculture that he ought to publish another book, and let us know which half is bona fide and which half untrue?

I think it would be a good plan to change the name of the new "Department" too, and call it hereafter, "The Publishing and Advertising Department." It seems to me that it takes more printer's ink to tell a little, and do a little, in that "department," than anywhere I have ever known. I never saw the Colonel but once, when he made a speech in our county. It was a mighty good speech, with a little about farming and a good deal about the "Department" in it. I don't think I got much agricultural light from that speech, but I was thoroughly satisfied that it took a big hoss-power of self-complacency to run that "Department."

Won't you tell us something about that law passed by the Legislature, so they say, allowing this Charlotte Yankee Land Agent,—what is his name?—Dumont,—to print as many books as he pleases, at the State's expense, without saying anything about the size, cost or character of the books, and

TWENTY THOUSAND IN DUTCH BESIDE?

I've no objection to his advertising, or printing a book, or selling lands, for three or four times what they are worth, if he can, but why we should do his advertising for him, gratis, I can't make out. If it's true, no doubt he'll make a good thing of it. I should not wonder if he had his tongue in his cheek and was grinning at our greenness "ad naso adunco" as the old Latin Grammar had it. If he is not, he is greener than any Yankee I've ever heard of.

But I really forgot to tell you what the military "Commissioner and Board of Agriculture" sent me. That is, I suppose he did, for there ain't another man in Raleigh that ever heard of my name, I don't suppose, and if there is he'd not be likely to know I'd changed my post office during the last month unless he'd seen my letter.

It was the following circular:

TO THE HONORABLE COMMISSIONER AND BOARD OF AGRICULTUREE FOR NORTH CAROLINA.

Your petitioners realizing the great necessity of more enlightenment, and the permanent establishment of an organ for that purpose among the farmers of our good old State would respectfully recommend that you subscribe for at least 10,000 copies of a paper, wholly devoted to the wants of those who pursue agriculture for a term of at least two years; said paper to be distributed throughout our entire State under the direction of your worthy body.

We believe this the cheapest and best way to diffuse the information which your Board was established to collect.

Believing further that a paper started under your auspices in this way, and thus partially supported during its incipiency, would, at the close of two years, be able to maintain itself handsomely, and be of vast benefit to the producers of North Carolina.

It is clear to the minds of your friends here petitioning, that our people for whose benefit your department was established, greatly need encouragement and such information, as a small weekly paper could give; you furnishing its Editor with all your reports and statistics, formulas, suggestions, &c., from and with which, an exceedingly interesting, attractive and instructive weekly issue could be made.

Further, we believe that a small paper gotten upon this plan, would be of more benefit to the masses of our profession than one of more pretentions, for a few years, and that after a while, it would GROW TO BE A PERMANENT THING and of larger proportions.

And in conclusion would further suggest, you advertise for proposals, and that you accept the cheapest, upon receipt of a good and sufficient bond, for the faithful execution of the contract for the term of two years, as agreed upon.

[If you endorse the above, please secure a few of your friends' signatures who also endorse it, and forward to Col. L. L. Polk, Raleigh, N. C.]

Names. Post Offices."

That circular redeemed the "Colonel" in my eyes at once. I had been inclined to make light of him before. There was a sort of airishness about him that didn't seem exactly "agricultural;" the "Department" business looked rather expansive to me, as if he had some difficulty in precisely defining his own geographical limits, or as some of the philosophers say, marking the line between the "ego" and the "non ego;" but I freely retract all such ideas now The capacity for grand results of this magnificent scheme, mark "the Commissioner and Board of Agriculture" as

THE POLITICO-AGRICULTURAL NAPOLEON OF HIS AGE.

I'm his man and he's mine, and so I wrote him. I never went in for "Colonels" much before, but now I am satisfied that they are the great moral want, the military necessity, as it were, of the age. What we need is about 40,000 more jist such.

I started out with that petition that very day and got names to it till you couldn't rest. I carried half a quire of paper in my hat and a bottle of flour paste in my pocket, and kept putting on names till it was about five yards long, and scratched all over, as if a flock of pigeons had roosted on it after a shower. Then Squire Sam Purdie, he said he knew and he got some more paper and we went over to the graveyard and copied off all the names on the headstones and put them on it too,—all except some old centennials, whose names we could not make out—Of course, every one that signs will get one of those ten thousand papers and as 'Squire Sam is postmaster we allowed we'd divide the graveyard copies. 'Twont cost nothing now that the publisher has to pay the postage and the State is the publisher. The plan suits me to a dot, only, I think it might be extended a little, as it no doubt will be, when the Colonel gets fully under way. He might add some little thing as an inducement to subscribers, not any book or dictionary trash but something attractive, say a few pounds of tobacco or a gallon of "Mountain Dew" or some other agricultural product that would be acceptable to most everybody. He could give away a hundred thousand just as well as ten thousand then!

A TRICK WORTH TWO OF THAT,

I happened to mention it to the editor of our country-paper and than I've known him to in forty years. He aint no beauty anyhow, but his face just looked awful and he twisted about as if his insides was full of young blacksnakes. I was really scared. But after awhile he grabbed his pen, called for his "fool-killer" and swore he'd be eternally roasted if he didn't have somebody's scalp. Then, I left.

Poor fellow! It would mash his little one-hoss, jack-legged country paper to flinders, but it would be an incalculable benefit to the people.

Then too, you will notice that the petition says very particular, "for a term of at least two years," that is, as I construe this very suggestive phrase,

UNTIL AFTER THE NEXT ELECTION!

That's a magnificent idea! Of course, it will support the "Commissioner and Board of Agriculture;" and his friends aiders and abettors, and how, I would like to know, is any man to stand before the editor and controller of a paper with ten thousand subscribers for two years secure on his books, their subscriptions paid up in advance out of the State Treasury? It's a big idea! It seems to me a little too big for the Colonel. I know, small oaks from little acorns grow, but—. Well the fact is Mr. Editor, I am just dying to know, if the suggestion didn't come from Gov. Jarvis or some one else. It seems mightly like Jarvis to me. He don't handsome much, but he's powerful sly; and they do say that there are several aspiring gents who want powerful bad to take the deceased Robinson's place in the late "Combination Troupe." Honestly, Mr. Editor who was it that put Polk up to this dodge or was it just to keep himself from being poked out and his "Department" with him, as he came so near being during the last Legislature?

Respectfully,

St. Petersburg not so Bad a Place to Live in After All.

Washington Star, 13th.

A gentleman who has just returned from Russia, says that the effects of the policy of repression are badly noticeable in St. Petersburg. He traversed a large part of the city late at night without interference or question. Sunday the 5th inst., being a bright day, the streets were thronged with promenaders as happy and light-hearted, apparently, as those in any other continental city. He saw the Princess Dagmar driving through the streets alone in her carriage.

Mr. J. Gould Indicted.

A telegram to the N. Y. Sun, from Freehold, N. J., May 12, says: "The Monmouth county grand jury have found a bill of indictment against Jay Gould as president of the New Jersey Southern Railroad Company, the secretary of the road, and others, for some of their operations shortly after the company was declared to be insolvent."

Washington Monument.

Washington Star, 13.

The House committee on public buildings and grounds to-day agreed to report favorably a bill appropriating $64,000 to be used to strengthen the foundation of the Washington Monument.

A Royal Marriage.

LONDON, May 13.—The Daily Telegraph's correspondent at Paris says:—It is reported that there is a possibility of the marriage of the Archduke Rudolf, Crown Prince of Austria, to the Infanta Maria Del Pilar, King Alfonso's sister. The crown prince was born August 21st, 1858, and the Infanta Maria Del Philar, June 4th, 1861.

"You've a pretty little hand,
Indeed you have, by heavens!"
He said with a smile most bland;
"You've a pretty little hand,
My sweet—Oh! ouch! don't stand
On my corn with your number sevens,
You've a pretty little hand,
Indeed you have by heavens!"

KITCHIN AND RUSSELL.

THE QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE ONCE MORE.

Cries of Regular Order---Widow Oliver Appears Again---The Democratic Caucus.

Richmond Dispatch 14.

Mr. Russell (Republican), of North Carolina, next arose to a personal explanation, and, under the privilege granted him, charged that Mr. Kitchin, of North Carolina, held his seat by fraud and corruption, and that he was beaten 2,000 votes. His manner was provoking, and his assertions calculated to make a less excitable man than his colleague mad. The Republicans enjoyed his remarks immensely. Mr. Kitchin, in reply, fairly stormed, and was not at all choice in the epithets he used to express his indignation at the statements and assertions of Mr. Russell. He characterized what he said in relation to him as slanderous, false, and infamous, and got so excited while speaking that he walked over to the Republican side of the hall and had to be called back by the Speaker. Finally there were cries of "Regular order," and the Democrats endeavored to bring the proceeding to a close, but the Republicans cried "Go on," and were in high spirits. The Speaker in the meanwhile rapped his gavel rapidly and endeavored to restore quiet, but his effort proved unsuccessful he became arbitrary and declared the personal-explanation business at an end.

Mr. Kitchin now got in, however, a charge that Mr. Russell was tried by a court-martial and dismissed from the Confederate service. "Yes, I was," said Mr. Russell, "for whipping a conscript officer; but Jeff Davis reinstated me." Mr. Kitchin here took his seat reluctantly, evidently mortified that he was cut off before he could get all of his work in. The Democrats evidently were much relieved. Mr. Davidson, of Florida, now rose to a personal explanation, Mr. Russell having charged fraud on the part of the Florida Returning Board in giving certificates to his colleague. There were cries of regular order and "I object," but leave was given him finally to make a five-minutes' explanation. This he did, and conclusively vindicated his State, the Returning Board, the Democratic party, and his colleague.

WIDOW OLIVER A BRITISH SUBJECT.

The widow Oliver, dressed with care and wearing the look of a hunted-down woman, appeared this morning before the House Committee on Foreign Relations. In a very proper way she announced that she is a subject and needed advice and money to aid her in prosecuting her righteous claim against Simon Cameron. She was treated with due respect and her case was referred to Sir Edward Thornton, the British Minister. Things now look serious, for Simon has no longer, through Ben Butler, to bullyrag and bulldoze a deserted and impecunious American female, but will have to deal with a British woman backed by the power of H. M. G.

THE DEMOCRATIC CAUCUS.

Democratic congressmen say to-night that the Democratic caucus will not meet until Monday next. The opinion prevails that no vote can be reacned on the silver bill in the House to-morrow.

ANOTHER ACCOUNT OF THE KITCHIN-RUSSELL ENCOUNTER.

Russell Makes a Lame Attempt to Imitate Frye--Kitchen Walks Near Him and Denounces Him in the Strongest Terms.

Washington Post 14th.

The House proceedings were made lively yesterday with personal explanations, one or two of a very spicy and "personal" nature. In the first place Mr. Shelly disposed of a Radical falsehood in relation to his own election. Then Russell, the ex-rebel Republican of North Caroiina, who got a jndgeship for adding his influence to the Radical pariy, felt called upon to reply to the recent strictures of Mr. Kitchin. He first denied the charges that he had "never gone through a law school," but didn't say whether he had simply been kicked through or walked through one. He made a lame attempt to imitate the style of Mr. Frye, but only succeeded to the extent of charging his colleague with plantation manners. He endeavored to explain what he had said before, rehashed a lot of stuff about fradulent Democratic returning boards, and denied having slandered the "noble old State of North Carolina." His was not a personal explanation in any sense of the word, but still the Democrats let him go on. He amused them and they would not interfere. Captain Kitchen replied in a very "impassioned" manner. He walked to the area in front of the speaker, and began in a moderate tone, but soon grew excited, and in a few moments he was shaking all over with rage. His face was livid, and his words crowded each other in rapid succession. Walking as near to Russell as the seats would permit, he denounced him in the strongest language. He contradicted his assailant in detail and in general, and said he knew he was dealing in falsehood when he made the statements. He had tried to avoid any contest on this question, and requested Russell not to bring it before the House as he (Russell) would have to act as judge in the case of his (Kitchin's) seat being contested. He said that Russell had chosen to prejudge the case, and that was his way of doing business on the bench; he associated only with the most degraded, and had never had any character in North Carolina. He asked Rusell if he had not been dishonorably dismissed from the Confederate army. The latter said he had been, but was restored by Jeff Davis, whereupon the Republicans shouted apparently regarding that as a high endorsement of their concert.

Finally several members made the point of order, that the discussion had gone beyond the "personal" limit. The Speaker admonished the gentleman accordinly, and remarked, in a low tone, that "these" personal explanations are becoming a nuisance." Mr. Davidson, of Florida, very briefly replied to Russell's charges against that State, and showed that they were false. He said he didn't know whether the gentleman (he meant Russell) knew they were false or not, but false they were. Russell's exhibition may do some good, in that it will show the Northern people what kind of Southern men have gone over to the Radical party.

MORE WASHINGTON NEWS.

The Stalwarts in High Favor at the White House--Action and Expressions on the Veto--The Bane and the Antidote--An Early Adjournment Growing in Favor.

Baltimore Sun 14th.

WASHINGTON, May 13.

THE SITUATION.

A large number of stalwart republicans, including Senator Chandler and Logan and Representative Frye, Conger, Joyce and others, were at the White House to-day. With the exception of the brief time occupied in cabinet session the President devoted most of the pay to these gentlemen and the reception of their congratulations and praise over the course he has pursued. The entente cordial between the President and the radical element of his party is apparently now fully restored, and the stalwarts, who have for more than two years made a point of denouncing him without stint, publicly and privately, now have nothing but honeyed phrases for him.

The Southern Senators and members who have heretofore been credited, whether properly or not, with possessing so much influence over the President, continues to visit the White House, or at least some of them do, but the stalwarts among the republicans are threatening to-day that they will soon make it too warm for the ex-Confederates to come to the executive mansion. But notwithstanding that the President has apparently fallen into the arms of the radical republicans, some of the shrewd ones are already prophesying that the present reconciliation will not be permanent, and that before six months have rolled around the President will be as obnoxious as ever to the men who are lavishing such praise upon him.

Although the President has for the time being placed himself in accord with the desperate and dangerous Congressional clique which has so long dominated the Republican party, his instincts and his inclinations are such that in the not remote future the association may be less pleasant to him than for the present moment. So far as the Democratic leaders are concerned, the opinion is gaining ground among them that as matters now stand it is useless to attempt to patch up the political measures with any hope at this time of coming together with the President. The vote in the House to-day on passing the anti-military interference bill over the veto of the President disclosed a majority acting with the Democrats of thirty. This is a large majority than the Democrats have ever been able to muster since the beginning of this session.

The veto message was referred to the Committee on the Judiciary. The object of this is understood to be to give an opportunity for a formal reply to be made in behalf of the Democratic majority to the arguments of the President, both in this and the previous veto message. It will be submitted in the nature of a report from the Judiciary Committee, and will state the Democratic position. The purpose will then be to let the veto messages and the refutation go out together to the country. The Democrats of the two houses will hold a caucus either to-morrow or next day to determine definitely upon the next move by their side. At this writing there remains nothing additional to be said on this point, except simple and idle speculation, other than to note that the sentiment in favor of an early adjournment is increasing hourly.

A NEGRO EAN MARRIES A WHITE WOMAN.

A Writ of Habeas Corbnas Refused Them by Sudge Hughes of Virginia.

RICHMOND, May 14.—In the United States Circuit Court to-day a writ of habeas corpus in the miscegenation case of the negro Edmund Kinney, and the white woman Mary Hall, now confined in the penitentiary for violation of the statute prohibiting the intermarriage of races was refused by Judge Hughes on the ground that the United States Courts have no jurisdiction over questions of marriage.

The opinion holds that the laws of marriage are at sovereign control and will of each State unaffected by any provision of any article of the constitution of the United States. That absolute and entire power over these laws is necessarily left all over the world and in this Union of States to the government of local society. That the law under which the parties were convicted was with the unrestrained legislative power of Virginia to enact it and that it is not prohibited by any provision of national constitution. As to making contracts the opinion holds that section 1877 of Revised Statutes to all persons within the United States the right in every State to make and enforce contracts etc., can only refer to contracts lawful under the law of States wherein it is proposed to enforce them. Admitting thst marriage is a contract to hold that the privilege of enforcing it, extends only to lawful marriages and that if a citizen of Virginia, went to the District of Columbia or to the territory of Utah and was there married in accordance with the local law, he could not return with his consort or consorts to Virginia, and expect to subordinate her laws of marriage to the other Jurisdiction. The case will probably be taken to the Supreme court of the United States.

Investigation of the Swindling Freedman's Savings Bank.

WASHINGTON, May 14.—Chairman Bruce has called a meeting of the select Senate committee on the Freedman's Bank for next Tuesday, when the commissioners in charge of affairs of that insolvent institution will lay before the Committee a detailed account of their management and personally respond to the cognate inquiries. The committee intend to apply to the Senate at an early day for the authority to sit during recess, and also for sundry powers not explicitly conferred by the resolution under which the general investigation was originally ordered.

Great Fire in Bombay.

BOMBAY, May 14.—There was a great conflagration last night at Poenah, an important Government and Military centre, eighty miles Southeast of this city. The Government School, Boodwar Palace, the Law Courts, the Post Office, the Police Office and Forty Houses were completely destroyed. The fire has since been extinguished.

Henry Ward Beecher's Lecture.

NEW YORK, May 14.—A Memphis special says Henry Ward Beecher was greeted by an audience of 4000 people at his lecture in the Exposition building last night. He was presented to the meeting by Keating of the Appeal and his lecture was frequently interrupted by applause.

At its close, Mr. Beecher presented Mr. Keating with a check for 250 dollars, to be by him distributed between the Orphan Asylums of Memphis, Chattanooga and Atlanta. Engagements have been cancelled and Mr. Beecher will return to Brooklyn on account of physical inability to fulfill them. While in Memphis Mr. Beecher has been treated with utmost respect and his coming was the occasion of excursion trains being put on all roads leading into Memphis, all crowded with people from Western Tennessee, Northern Missippi, Northern Alabama and Arkansas.

COLLECTOR WHEELER

WRITES A LETTER AND DEMANDS AN INVESTIGATION.

A Letter From the Cashier of the Winston National Bank.

Correspondence of the News.

WINSTON, May 9th, 1879.—My attention has been directed to an anonymous communication in your daily issue of the 7th inst., which refers to me. I pronounce your correspondent a consummate liar, a mendacious wretch, a base and villainous poltroon. I defy the thieving rascals, affiliating with the Republican party, only for pelf, and the scoundrelly Democrats, who have abetted and sympathized with them in their nefarious designs. And Gen. Scales and his Congressional Committee to which you refer, I invite the severest scrutiny to my official acts from the inception of my administration to this hour. Respectfully,

W. H. WHEELER.

LETTER FROM MR. ALSPAUGH.

WINSTON, May 9th, 1879.—I see in your issue of the 7th inst., an article headed "COLLECTOR WHEELER," and making numerous charges against that gentleman as an officer of the government. While I know Dr. Wheeler to be a gentleman, and believe the charges preferred by your anonymous correspondent to be utterly untrue, and the emanations of a bad heart, stung with envy and malice, by defeat in an effort to get the office the Dr. enjoys, I am not his advocate or defender. This is a little job the Dr. knows best how to perform himself. But when your correspondent goes out of his way to make false accusation against this Bank, I feel that I cannot do less than pronounce him a calumniator; and if he is the party I suppose him to be, he has been a defaulter himself, and perhaps a thief.

Respectfully,

J. W. ALSPAUGH, Cashier.

STATE NEWS.

Craven.

Nut Shell,

John R. Thomas, John C. Gardner, and Alex. T. Stransbury are the newly elected Newbern police.

Our city yesterday seemed almost over-run with green peas; turn where you would and you stood a chance of stumbling over piles of them; a constant stream of carts and wagons were passing to the steamers' wharf and to the railroad depot nearly the entire day, and both places were thoroughly stocked. Not less than two thousand boxes were shipped yesterday by railroad and the Old Dominion steamer and yet the Railroad Company's warehouse was again filled with peas, for shipment, last night. Major Hughes intends sending out another extra train to-day, by which at least one thousand boxes more will be shipped.

The trucking business has been very successful this season and Newbern stands far ahead of any place that we hear of. A canning establishment is now needed. Who will untake the enterprise? Stir them up, George. Newbern now has a cotton factory, a wooden-plate manufactory, and with the addition of a conning establishment and soap factory she will enter on a new era of prosperity.

National Visitor.

Dr. Ed. Allred, of Yadkinville, informs us that the prisoners, three in number, confined in the county jail, made a successful attempt at escape a few days ago. They have not been recaptured.

A rattlesnake measuring two feet and nine inches and having six rattles was killed near Green Hill, on Tuesday evening, the 6th instant, by Mrs. R. P. Rawley and Miss Mary Phillips. Who can beat this for bravery?

Our townsman, William P. Gilmer, has just invented a self-adjusting tobacco clamp, which is destined to be one of the leading labor-saving machines of the day. Mr. Gilmer is a first-class mechanic and, we hope, will make his invention pay him for his time and labor in bringing it to perfection. He has applied for a patent. North Carolina is fast arousing from her lethargy, and we cordially join the Visitor in the hope that Mr. Gilmer may meet with that success which home industry deserves.

Orange.

Hillsboro Recorder.

In connection with the action of the Commissioners, we learn that the prisoners remaining in the county jail at the time at which the repairs of the jail are commenced, will be transferred to the jail of Chatham. This will include Root. Boswell under sentence of death, and Rebecca Ann Dyon, under indictment for capital felony.

We claim to be no epicure; but we were not insensible to the charms of mutton and green peas, boiled rock and mashed potatoes, and the many other good things that stood around as outflanking sentinels our more favored viands. The cooking is excellent, the service complete, and the gentlemanly proprietors are determined to make the National a success.

Mr. P. C. Cameron sent us last week—but just too late for notice—a stalk of wheat full headed and of superior growth attaining a height in strong contrast of the average appearance of the crop.

The condition of the wheat crop is variable, and is not suggestive of big fortunes from the ground.

The condition of the fruit crop is capricious in the extreme. Some neighborhoods have a sufficiency, while others are blasted with black disaster.

Granville.

Torchlight.

Mr. M. G. Thomas, who has been engaged as gardener at the Orphan Asylum died of pneumonia last Wednesday night.

Mrs. Moon, the great Methodist revivalist, is expected in Oxford at an early day. There is sufficient material here for her to accomplish much good and that she may be successful is the sincere wish of all.

The proposition to tax the townships was voted down in Sassafras Fork, Tally Ho and Fishing Creek. Oxford and Walnut Grove have gone for it. This gives us $44,000 from taxation, which, added to the private subscription, makes about $55,000, being $10,000 of enough to build the road. The road is a certainty and will be built.

All right, Davis! We hope the first engine will be named "Torchlight," and that the officers of the road will tender you a D. H. pass for 99 years.

The sharp crack of the pistol and the dull swosh of the assassin's knife are now largely heard in the Northern States. More shootings, cuttings and killings have taken place on the North side of Mason and Dixon's line within ten days than the "bloody" reports in a month.—Baltimore Gazette.

Negro Refugees, &c.

ST LOUIS, May 14—Heavy rains prevailed over a considerable extent of territory west of here yesterday, benefitting crops greatly. The officers of the steamboat companies having headquarters in this city, and the officers of the steamers plying between here and New Orleans, deny having refused transportation to colored refugees, whenever the latter had money to pay passage. They also deny that there has been any generally expressed disposition on the part of merchants and planters to withdraw patronge from the boats which carry immigrants. This has been done in a few instances, but the desire to prevent the negroes from leaving the South is changing, and now planters do not seem to care whether they leave or not. Officers of the latest arrived boats say they were not hailed on the way by negroes and do not belive there are any such numbers of refugees on the river banks as has been stated. They further say the excitement is fast dying out and will close altogether in a short time.

WASHINGTON, May 14.—SENATE—Senator Vest gave notice of his intention to introduce a bill proposing to organize Indian Territory into a State and providing for its admission into the Union. His resolution making inquiry as to whether any part of Indian Territory had been purchased by the United States with a view of locating Indians or freedmen thereon was agreed to. The Senate resumed consideration of the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill.

Kernan addressed the Senate advocating the repeal of the test oath and in opposition to the use of the army at elections. The Senate afterwards adopted the amendment for paying arrearages of pensions with that portion of the ten million dollars in the treasury kept as a special fund for the redemption of fractional currency.

WASHINGTON, May 14.—HOUSE.—The House committee on revolutionary pensions to-day agreed to report favorable on Dibrell's bill to prevent the witholding of pensions from pensioners under an act of March 9, 1878. The object of the bill is to prevent the withholding of pensions from those who have been restored to the pension roll and then dropped on the charge of disloyalty.

After the passage of the bill allowing expenditures for the purchase of sites in connection with the improvement of Kentucky and the Great Kanawha rivers, Warner, of Ohio, attempted to have his silver bill considered, but failing to obtain the necessary two-thirds vote the business of the morning hour was taken up at 1:25, being the bill in regard to the transfer of cases from State to Federal courts.

After the morning hour the silver bill was taken up and discussed until adjournment. The vote will probably be taken to-morrow.

Memorial Day at New Bern.

Wilmington Sun, May 14.

NEW BERNE, May 10.—The procession was comprised of the Ladies' Memorial Association, the Newberne Silver Cornet Band, four companies of the First Regiment N. C. S. G., the Kinston and the Goldsboro companies, and the two Newberne companies and a large portion of our citizens together with many visitors, making an assembly around the Confederate monument of about 2,000 persons. The ceremonies were opened with music by a choir composed of the best voices in our city. The piece selected being "The Guard Around the Tomb" The prayer was then delivered by Rev. S. C. Vass, of the Presbyterian church of this city.

Col. A. M. Waddell was introduced in a short and elegant speech by our townsman Major John Auphus. The address was then delivered. It was considered the best ever delivered here. "God Love the South" (hymn) was sung, benediction offered, a salute fired by the military and flowers scattered over the graves.

The Sultan's Gift to Grant.

Constantinople Correspondence of the Philadelphia Telegraph.

In March last, when General Grant, in the course of his cruise in the Vandalia, came to Constantinople, his first visit was paid to the Sultan. Immediately after this interview His Majesty charged Munir Bey, the master of ceremonies, to present the General with an Arab horse from the imperial stables. Accordingly a number were led out, and one chosen and set aside for him; but owing to some misunderstanding the gift horse was not sent, and the Vandalia sailed without him. Recently, the question having been revived, the steed in question was hunted up among five hundred and seventy horses which compose the imperial stud. He was found, and accompanied by a second horse also for General Grant, transferred to the care of the American Legatation. Arrangements have been made to send them in a few days on the Norman Monarch, a steamer of 2,000 tons capacity, which will probably sail direct to New Haven. They are to be housed on deck, provided with canvass belts to swing in in rough weather and treated like saloon passengers. So it is to be reasonably hoped that at the end of thirty days' passage will find them both sound in wind and limb. One is a dappled gray of fair size and having all the traits characteristic of the Arabian blood—small, well-set, restless ears, wide pink nostrils, and large soft eyes, waving mane, and long tail reaching almost to the ground, and a skin of such delicacy that the stroke of a lady's whip is sufficient to draw blood. The other stallion has all these points. He is a glossy black, with a white star on his forehead and white hind feet. When the long forelock falls over his forehead the large black eyes have all the expression of a Bedouin woman's. The gait is perfect, be it either the rapid walk, the long swinging trot or the tireless stretching gallop, while a rein of one thread of silk is enough to guide their delicate mouth. Let one of these Arabs in the mad rush of a charge or a flight lose his rider and that instant the docile steed will stop as though turned to stone. These horses are of the famous Saktan race, the purest Arabian blood, only found in and near Bagdad. The dapple gray is appropriately named Djeytan (the panther) and the black Missirli (the one from Cairo), which cognomen he derives from the fact he was bought at Cairo although foaled at Bagdad. For breeding purposes as well as saddle horses their blood and gentle temper are high recommendations, and I have no doubt that our great General will be highly pleased with the Sultan's gift.

Episcopal Convention.

SELMA, May 14.—The Episcopal diocesan Convention of Alabama convened at Greensboro to-day. Bishop Welmer presiding. The attendance both clerical and lay was unusually large. The session will last four days.

——The members of Victor Fire Company express their sincere thanks to Major Tucker for the use of his cistern on Tuesday last, and are proud to say that as firemen we are always ready and willing to fight against the destroying flame. We respectfully ask the city to put us a light in our engine house, so that when we go in we can see what we are doing. JAS. JONES, Foreman.

OUR WATER SUPPLY.

THE PROTECTION WE NOW HAVE AGAINST FIRE.

The Capacity of the Cisterns--The Present Condition of the Fire Department.

The question of a water supply is a vital one, and of the greatest interest to property owners and holders. The only means we have of guarding ourselves here where we have no water works is by the use of cisterns, wherein the rain water may be stored until such time as it is needed for use in case of danger. Some years ago the city had a few cisterns excavated, but these proved inadequate to the needs of the growing city, and early in the present year orders were given for the building of six more. The cisterns now built, filled with water and available for use by the Fire Department, are eight in number. The location of each of these, with its capacity in gallons is given below:

Favetteville street at Heartt's store,	6,000.
Fayetteville street at Williams & Haywood,	6,000
Fayetteville street at Mahler's store,	6,000.
Fayetteville street at the crossing of Davie,	35,000
Hargett street at Wilmington,	14,000.
Davie street at Cottage Hotel,	30,000.
Capital Square, two,	20,000.
Total, in gallons.	117,000.

There are five cisterns below given, now in course of construction:

Newbern Avenue, at Mrs Stephens,	30,000.
Hillsboro street at Albert Johnsons,	30,000.
Salisbury street, near Col. Shaffer's,	30,000.
Blount street, near Col. Heck's,	30,000.
Person street near Methodist church,	30,000.
Total, in gallons.	150,000.

One of the cisterns above named, that at the Person Street Methodist Church, is complete, but it appears leaks so much that it cannot hold water. It will in a few days be placed in proper order by the contractor.

Besides the public cisterns above enumerated there are in the city several on the premises of private parties, or in daily use, but the use of which is granted in case of fire. These are located as follows:

Deaf, Dumb and Blind Asylum,	5,000
Yarboro House, two,	14,000
Maj. Tucker's, Hillsboro Ave.,	6,000
Total,	25,000

There are doubtless other cisterns which may be in such situation as to be of use, and it would be a good idea if persons on whose premises any such are situated would inform the Fire Department, as it would be of material benefit to them, and to property holders near by.

It appears from the figures given above that the public and private cisterns, now available for use by the engines have a total capacity of 142,000 gallons, and that those under way will contain 150,000, so that in the the course of a month, if proper haste is made in the work, we shall have at our disposal nearly 300,000 gallons. But this amount is not enough. Four more cisterns should certainly be provided, of 30,000 gallons each, or else eight of 15,000 each. There are many portions of the city, thickly built up, that the firemen cannot reach with their hose.

The city now has one steamer, the Rescue; one hand engine, the Victor; one chemical engine, the Phoenix; one hook and ladder company and one bucket company. There are 2,000 feet of good carbolized hose, almost new, and in good order. The hose reel of the Rescue carries to fires 1200 feet, while that of the Victor carries 600 feet.

The remainder is kept in the engine houses, as a reserve. There are also some 300 feet of old hose, which has been put in such a repair as to admit of its use for light work, but it cannot be depended upon with heavy pressure.

Funeral of Mr. H. J. Brown.

The funeral services of the late Mr. Henry J. Brown, who died Monday night, were held from the Edenton street Methodist church, at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The church was filled with a large crowd, and the services impressively conducted by Rev. W. S. Black, the pastor, were listened to with great attention. The remains were carried to Oakwood, attended by a number of friends. A good man and citizen has been laid in the narrow grave, and there awaits a day for which he was well prepared.

Mr. Brown was both an Odd Fellow and Mason, and both of these societies attended in a body. The casket was beautifully decorated with flowers, and was borne by Messrs. B. C. Manly, D. W. Bain, Eugene Grissom, John T. Morris, E. B. Thomas, A. P. Bryan, W. C. Stronach and P. A. Wiley.

The Eagle Brewery, Richmond, Va.

The brewery is entirely new, fitted up with the finest modern appliances, and has a capacity of 100 barrels or 400 kegs per day, which may be increased to any desired amount. A large bottling establishment is attached to the brewery, where large quantities of the beer will be put up for the Pacific coast of South America, it being, with one European exception, the only beer which will stand the long voyage around the Horn. The gold medal was awarded Mr. Geo. W. Robinson, the proprietor, by the Virginia State Agricultural Society for 1878. Dr. W. H. Taylor, State Chemist for Virginia, testifies to the purity and excellence of the products of this brewery, either as a medicine or a beverage. See advertisement.

HUSSEY & JORDAN, PROPRIETORS

JOHN B. HUSSEY, - - Editor.

THE VETO, NOW WHAT?

By the exercise of the veto the President can prevent any change in the election laws,—because the Democrats like the requisite two-thirds majority in both Houses to pass the law over a veto. But the Democrats can defeat all appropriations by adjournment.

We do not hesitate to say that such a course would be suicidal.

As we understand the situation, no such policy is contemplated by the Democratic party.

True, it is one way of overcoming and abolishing the veto power, but it is not the constitutional and usual way.

The people are supreme arbiters in this country. The issue is clean cut. The Democrats can appeal to the people. No man can doubt what the result will be.

If the people are prepared for the yoke of military despotism they will sustain the President's veto.

If the people are incapable of self government and are ready for a strong centralized government they will sustain the President's veto.

The President and the Republican party say that the armed soldiers shall stand at the ballot-box on the day of election. The Democratic party says that all elections shall be free from interference.

What do the PEOPLE say? Bayonets or No BAYONETS?

AND still another veto is ahead. It is given out that President Hayes will veto the jurors test oath repeal as a separate bill. True he has said that he would not oppose the repeal of that infamous law, just as he said he would not oppose the last bill preventing "military interference at elections." Examination of the test oath act has convinced the President, we are gravely informed, that "the act itself involves very much more than the simple question of the ironclad oath administered to jurors. The causes of disqualification and challenge of grand and petit jurors, known as the juror's test law, refers not only to persons who have been in rebellion against the Government of the United States, but applies to those who are about to resist with force of arms the execution of the laws of the United States. With that oath repealed, it would be impossible to punish a violation of the United States laws in many parts of the South, as juries would be apt to be composed of the confederates of the indicted persons.' And so we go.

COLLECTOR WHEELER publishes a letter in this morning's NEWS, in reply to a letter published some days ago from Washington City. Mr. Wheeler uses some very ugly words about our correspondent, which goes for naught against the solid facts so tersely presented by him. Our correspondent evidently had access to the official information on file in the Departments at Washington. That he has used the information to the damage of Collector Wheeler can hardly be doubted. His purpose, doubtless, was to direct attention to the "irregularities" in the Collector's office, in his demand for a thorough investigation by Congress. We are gratified to have the assurance from Collector Wheeler that our correspondent will have his hearty co-operation. That is right. We commend Collector Wheeler, and from the information in our possession we can assure him that his case will get a thorough and impartial investigation. May his vindication be as complete. Collector Wheeler's letter is supplemented by a letter of credit from Col. Alspaugh, cashier of the Winston National Bank, in vindication of that concern. The NEWS is ever ready to do all parties the amplest justice.

THE kind words the Newbernian is pleased to say about the NEWS is remarked as coming from a manly opponent in our late Senatorial controversy. In the same spirit we acknowledge a graceful compliment from the Goldsboro Mail. While these papers were able partizans of Judge Merrimon. the NEWS as zealously advocated the election of Gov. Vance in what it conceived to be the great interest of party organization. That unhappy struggle is over, and we trust forever.

AN unseemly wrangle between Russell and Kitchin in which each denounced the other in unmeasured terms gave spice to the House proceedings, Tuesday. Under the Speakers ruling that one member may denounce anothers as a thief and scoundrel provided he disclaims any personal reflection the "personal privilege" question has become a nuisance.

Halifax Matters.

Correspondence of the News.

HALIFAX, May 13.—Halifax Inferior Court opens on the 19th instant. Up to the present writing, there are 91 cases on docket, of which 14 are scire facias for failure to answer at the last term, 9 against the ex-Commissioners of Halifax county for malfeasance while in office. The following compose the old Board of Commissioners as shown by the bills of indictment. James E. O'Hara, John H. Howard, John W. Johnston, John Hamille. The following lawyers appear for the board: Jas. M. Grizzard, F. H. Busbee, Day & Hall and Mullen & More.

There are 36 cases for larceny. The others for assaults and batteries, selling liquor to minors, selling liquor on Sunday etc.;

There are nine prisoners in jail. One Fred Douglass, died in jail last night. This makes the second since the first of January. It is to be hoped that our present Board, will see to the jail's being made more comfortable; for it is almost certain death to be placed in such a place for any length of time

A correspondent writing from Chapel Hill informs us that there will be a ball at the University during commencement week.

The Question of Credit.

Correspondence of the News.

OXFORD, May 14.—Since the mighty upheaval and general depression of matters consequent on the war, creditors have become suspicious, and are slow to accept offered terms for their money. The majority of our people have learned to undervalue the benefits of public and private credit. They seem to forget that public and private credit are closely allied to honor and integrity of purpose. Men of means do not feel it their duty to invest in bonds issued for the various schemes of internal improvement, if they can see no way of improving the internal desire of those deriving the benefit to pay them. When a people are taught to believe they are doing God's service in ignoring their own private obligations, it is hardly to be supposed they will regard public debts in a higher or more sacred light. The cry of repudiation sounds very harshly on the ears of honest creditors, whose means have been expended in the interests of the State or town, under the most sacred pledges and promises for its return, according to the stipulations of the contract. When the morals of a country become so low that designing demagogues can ride into positions of trust by haranging willing multitudes on the impropriety of paying its public creditors, honest and shrewd capitalists will hardly invest much more on such uncertain security. A high-toned Christian gentleman may have no objection to paying out a few thousand dollars, if by so doing he can help develop the resources of the country, promote its interests, and excite a higher sense of moral rectitude in the minds of the people. But after he has paid out his money, with the pledge that it shall be returned, it affords him no delight to listen to the vociferous applause of a repudiating people listening to exciting harangues of unscrupulous demagogues against the payment of the honest dues of those who have so nobly responded to the calls upon their generosity in the hour of need. While we may be in favor of internal improvements by the State on a prudent scale, we are certainly in favor of internal improvement in the wish and desire of our people to promptly meet their private and public obligations. Individual confidence cannot be restored, nor State pride and honor maintained, by ignoring public and private contracts and concentrating public sentiment against honest creditors, as if they were devouring wolves in the midst of a bleeding, suffering flock. Moneyed men must feel that some little desire to return their money exists in the minds of those seeking it before they will willingly place it beyond their reach and control. A manifested desire on the part of the borrower not to pay will certainly make a lender slow to lend or invest.

The Oxford Orphan Assylum.

A reporter yesterday had a pleasant chat with genial Mr. Jack Mills, the clever Superintendent of the Orphan Asylum at Oxford, relative to the welfare of that admirable institution. There has always been a great and growing love in the hearts of the people for this noble charity beneath whose roof so many helpless and homeless ones find shelter and care. The Asylum has been in operation for some years, and has been steadily in operation, though at times its fortunes have been at a low ebb, indeed. The institution has heretofore been entirely maintained by the voluntary contributions of the public. The Legislature, at its last session, made an annual appropriation to go towards defraying the expenses of maintenance. But, owing to the lack of funds in the Treasury this is not available, and so the Asylum is in immediate need of donations. There are now at the institution 128 children, nearly every county in the State being represented. The health of the pupils has been admirable, and there has been no sickness at all this year. The buildings, which were somewhat injured by fire some months past, have been put in thorough repair, and coated with fire proof paint. A new building is being erected in a grove by the spring, to be used as a hospital in case of sickness. There are at present five teachers at the Asylum, all ladies. One of these was raised in the Institution and afterwards graduated at Greensboro Female College. There have recently been some changes in the corps of teachers. Miss Long, of Randolph, has been succeeded by Miss Everett, of Goldsboro. Miss Fife, of Thomasville, succeeds Miss Clewell, of Salem, and Miss Jeffreys, of Virginia, takes the place of Miss Jordan, of Roxboro. The Asylum is admirably managed, and the pupils are carefully looked after.

They show great progress as scholars. One of the orphans has been at Chowan Institute nearly four years, the Asylum furnishing books and clothing. She will graduate in June and return to the Asylum as a teacher. The benefits of this institution are invaluable, and its advantages are a Godsend to every child in its walls. Only orphans, or children of widows who are unable to support them, are taken in charge. When a widow marries, her children are sent back to her at once. A lady who had children there said that she wished to marry, but preferred to remain solitary rather than take away her child. Another thought that her child should stay, as it was taking the widows at a disadvantage to give them such alternatives. The school is such a home for the homeless as but few find, and big hearted Jack Mills is a father to every little one there.

Turning Tragedy into Farce With a Word.

Boston Saturday Night.

On the first appearance of the play of "Brutus" a ludicrous incident occurred which Mr. Pryne told me mortified him exceedingly, and which so slight are the causes which stamp with success or failure a new drama, threatened it with serious disaster. The part of Tullia was taken by Mrs. Glover, an admirable actress, but extremely fleshy, and without a thought on the part of one of the suggestiveness of the scene to an audience always ready to appreciate the ridiculous, the following passage was allowed to pass the repeated rehearsals of the play:

Messenger—Fly, Tullia, fly!

Tullia—Fly, I was not born to fly!

The audience caught the idea at once of the impossibility of her flying, and burst out into a shout of laughter, which was only checked by a fortunate brilliant coup de theater which followed it and restored the play. The next day the lines were struck out, and on reference to the opening scene in the fourth act, it will be seen that the appearance of the Messenger is omitted, and Tullia enters alone and opens the scene with the line: "Gods! whither shall a frantic woman fly?"

The Medical Society of the State of North Carolina will meet in Greensboro, on Tuesday the 20th. at 11 a. m. Members living East of Greensboro, must arrive there on Monday night, in order to be present at the opening of the Society. LIVER PILLS

Hepatitis, or Liver Complaint,

DYSPEPSIA AND SICK HEADACHE

Symptoms of a Diseased Liver.

PAIN in the right side, under the edge of the ribs, increases on pressure; sometimes the pain is in the left side; the patient is rarely able to lie on the left side; sometimes the pain is felt under the shoulder blade, and it frequently extends to the top of the shoulder, and is sometimes mistaken for rheumatism in the arm. The stomach is affected with loss of appetite and sickness; the bowels in general are costive, sometimes alternative with flux, the head is troubled with pain, accompanied with a dull, heavy sensation in the back part. There is generally a considerable loss of memory, accompanied with a painful sensation of having left undone something which ought to have been done. A slight, dry cough is sometimes an attendant. The patient complains of weariness and debility; he is easily startled, his feet are cold or burning, and he complains of a prickly sensation of the skin; his spirits are low; and although he is satisfied that exercise would be beneficial to him, yet he can scarcely summon up fortitude enough to try it. In fact, he distrusts every remedy. Several of the above symptoms attend the disease, but cases have occurred where few of them existed, yet examination of the body, after death, has shown the LIVER to have been extensively deranged.

AGUE AND FEVER

DR. C. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS, IN CASES OF AGUE AND FEVER, when taken with Quinine, are productive of the most happy results. No better cathartic can be used, preparatory to, or after taking Quinine. We would advise all who are afflicted with this disease to give them a FAIR TRIAL.

For all bilious derangements, and as a simple purgative, they are unequaled.

BEWARE OF IMITATIONS.

The genuine are never sugar coated.

Every box has a red wax seal on the lid, with the impression DR. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS.

The genuine McLANE'S LIVER PILLS bear the signatures of C. McLANE and FLEMING BROS. on the wrappers.

Insist upon having the genuine DR. C. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS, prepared by Fleming Bros., of Pittsburgh, Pa., the market being full of imitations of the name McLane, spelled differently but same pronunciation.

PATINE

HEPATINE

GLOBE FLOWER SYRUP.

STILLINGIA.

LIVER

This important organ weighs but about three pounds, and all the blood in a living person about three gallons passes through it at least once every half hour, to have the bile and other impurities strained or filtered from it. Bile is the natural purgative of the bowels, and if the Liver becomes torpid it is not separated from the blood, but carried through the veins to all parts of the system, and in trying to escape through the pores of the skin, causes it to turn yellow or a dirty brown color. The stomach becomes diseased, and Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Constipation, Headache, Biliousness, Jaundice, Chills, Malarial Fevers, Piles, Sick and Sour Stomach, and general debility follow. MERRELL'S HEPATINE, the great vegetable discovery for torpidity, causes the Liver to throw off from one to two ounces of bile each time the blood passes through it, as long as there is an excess of bile: and the effect of even a few doses upon yellow complexion or a brown dirty looking skin, will astonish all who try it—they being the first symptoms to disappear. The cure of all bilious diseases and Liver complaint is made certain by taking HEPATINE in accordance with directions. Headache is generally cured in twenty minutes, and no disease that arises from the Liver can exist if a fair trial is given.

THE INVENTION OF THE AGE.

Talbott's new Patent Spark Arrester is really the only perfect and reliable one, and is superseding all others in use. The great efficiency of this Arrester is attracting universal attention, and is being endorsed by the best mechanical engineers and insurance companies. Its prominent features are:

It does not destroy the draft.

It does not interfere with cleaning the tubes.

It will not choke up, and requires no cleaning.

It requires no direct dampers to be opened when raising steam (dampers being objectionable, as they may be left open and allow sparks to escape.)

It requires no water to extinguish sparks, which, by condensation, destroys the draft. Besides, when water is used, if neglected, the efficiency is destroyed by evaporation of the water, and the boiler is kept in a filthy condition.

It is simple and durable, and can be relied upon.

It can be attached to any boiler.

No planter should be without one of them. Insurance companies will insure gins and barns where the Talbott Engines and Spark Arresters are used at same rate as charged for water or horse-power.

It is endorsed by the direct personal testimony of men of national fame and strictness of speech. It is not too much to say that no medicine ever had such support in its favor as a specific. The word of any one of the eminent divines who underwrite this antidote to dyspepsia has deserved weight. Their united witness joined with the experimental use and approval of the preparation by well known physicians, removes all doubt. It is beyond question, a wonderful therapeutical agent.—Editors Religious Herald, Va.

Chaplain Randolph Macon College, Va.

Many cases of Dyspepsia within my knowledge have been cured by it. Cramps, Colics, Headaches and all sorts of pain from Indigestion yield promptly to it. The cures of this sort are innumerable.

Rev. R. L. Dabney, L. L. Col., Va.

It is highly esteemed here by the regular Medical Faculty and the people. It is excellent for indigestion and Flatulent Colic, sedative, sop rific, tonic, slightly apo ent, without nausea.

Rev. R. P. Woodward, P. E., Na. Conf.

About twelve years I suffered from Dyspepsia. Failing in with this remedy, I gave it a fair trial. After its use I could eat anything with impunity. I am sure I am indebted to this medicine for what of health and physical comfort I have had for the last sixteen years, I have known many since to be relieved by its use.

Rev Robert W. Watts, A. M., Va.

I have used the mixture in my family for years, and have taken it for a Dyspepsia Colic, which threatened my life, and was cured, eating any diet without hurt. I have recommended it to other sufferers with happiest results. It is the best tonic and corrective I ever knew. For protration from Dyspepsia or Liver Disease it is invaluable.

J. D. Eggleston, M. D., Va.

It is a highly valuable remedy, and is more extensively used than any single article in the whole list of medicines, so far as I observed in my practice, for all the complaints in families from indigestion. I use it and recommend it.

Editor Richmond Christian Advocate

This remedy is of tried virtue. I have seen Dyspepsia cured completely by it. It seems to be an antidote to our "National Disease." The ingredients are not kept by the apothecaries, and have been difficult to get.

GOOD MORNING!

NEW GOODS

AT

A. CREECH'S.

CUSTOMERS, THIS ADVERTISEMENT is for your interest, so read carefully. I have received my stock of Spring Goods for 1879, and it affords me pleasure to say to you that every DEPARTMENT is full and complete, with New Goods, from Coarse to Fine Fabrics, bought by myself in person from the Importers and Manufacturers by the package.

And here allow me to say that integrity is the vital spark of commercial life, and brains, the big cog-wheel that runs the tireless Engine, and Cash is that earnest and solid stuff that will buy goods cheap, and still in the Brains of the smartest merchants, there lurks a puzzle as to when goods will get to hard pan or bottom prices.

But I think every merchant of experience will coinside with me in saying that goods have not been sold within the last twenty-five years so low as they are this Spring, and I feel confident in saying Goods, Wares and Merchandise have reached their bottom prices.

As many of them advanced and are still advancing, and it will only take a little money and financial skill to save money by buying goods before they further advance.

And in connection with this, let me say that you see all kinds of advertisments, some selling at cost and below, and some say the bottom's out, and goods at hard-pan prices and various other kinds. But let me tell you,

That I suppose at least a thousand persons at this writing will know that is the place, and I expect to tell ten thousand more within the next forty-eight hours to come to

CREECH'S

Creech's to Buy their GOODS

as I want customers wherever to be found, and buyers with money to spare, so when you come to town, down town or up town, come to CREECH'S.

DAILY NEWS

THURSDAY ------ MAY 15, 1879.

Righteous Decision of the U. S. Supreme Court.

The maintenance of the fidelity of a contract entered into by a sovereign State of the Federal Union has been frequently before the Supreme Court of the United States, in varied forms of litigation, and in every instance the judgment of that august tribunal has pronounced that the contract entered into is inviolate. The Louisiana State Lottery Company has a contract for twenty-five years from 1868, when it was incorporated, and the action of no legislature can prevent that renowned corporation from continuing its regular monthly distributions at New Orleans on the second Tuesday of every month. Dunlop & McCance Mills,

ERECTED 1853.

OFFICE: 1213 CARY STREET,
Richmond Va.,

We have recently introduced into our mill elaborate and costly Machinery, for manufacturing the

FLOUR

indicated by our trade-marks, to the Superior Quality,

OF WHICH

We ask the Attention of Dealers and Consumers.

The "Dunlop Patent Family"

meets a want long felt Flour having both color and strength. Its whiteness cannot fail to please the most fastidious taste, while its glutinous properties insure a light and nutritious bread. The advance in the art of milling, by which Patent Flour is made, though last established in the South, is here much needed—by housekeepers, to make up for culinary shortcomings; by bakers, to give strength and quality to the inferior grades, which can only be used to advantage by mixing with

New Process Flour.

Consumers should be Educated,
FOR HEALTH AND CONVENIENCE,
To Use A Better and Consequently More Expensive Grade of Flour.

and when the fact is realized that the cost of one dollar more per barrel amounts in their daily consumption of three or four pounds to a difference of one and a half or two cents, they will hardly regard the additional expenditure an extravagance. To few people buying Flour by the barrel does it occur that this important article of human food, used at every meal, costs less per day than almost any other on their bill of fare.

Our

"McCance New Process Family," and "McCance New Process Extra,"

we can confidently say they are unsurpassed by any other brands to be had for the same price; and will certainly give entire satisfaction to those who do not fancy paying the figures which Patent Flour must command to induce its manufacture.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

——Lord Brummell returned to this city from a brief visit to relatives in Warrenton.

——Some of the street gutters need cleaning badly, and the rubbish on some streets should be removed.

——The music recital at the Raleigh Female Seminary last Saturday evening was attended by a number of invited friends, and was a delightful affair.

——The cotton is growing finely, and the crops of all kinds appear to be well forward. More grass and grain have been sown in this county than for many years.

——The rain yesterday was most grateful, to both city and country alike. The parched ground and the dust covered shrubbery needed the moisture, and it came not a moment too soon.

——It looks as if marrying has almost played out in the country as not a single license was issued yesterday by the Register of Deeds.

——The property holders who were careless enough to have no insurance on their property, were pretty well convinced by the late fire that it is best to insure. No prudent man fails to protect himself in this way.

——Letters are held at the post office, addressed to R. H. Jones, Cary, no stamp; and to John McLaurin, Wilmington, 2 cent stamp.

——The garden of Mr. Fairchild, near the city, is a beautiful place to visit just now, and his truck garden is a model. His varieties of flowers are especially fine, and the hot houses are fair to look on.

——The collection of Internal Revenue yesterday were 13,701.58. During the month thus far they amount to $129,000, more than has ever been received at this office in a whole month.

——Drummers' licenses were yesterday issued by the State Treasurer to J. J. Wiggins & Co., Richmond, Va.; R. Walter & Co., Baltimore; and to Slater, Myers & Co., wholesale liquor dealers of Richmond, Va. The last named firm took out a $200 license.

——The bad weather prevented the rendition of the "Mistletoe Bough" by the amateurs, at Tucker Hall last evening. It will be produced in a few days; and our people will have an opportunity of enjoying it again. Due notice will be given of the date of the performance.

——It has been suggested that tonight will be a suitable occasion to reproduce the Mistletoe Bough. It is to be hoped that it is possible for the management to do so. If found practicable, announcement will be made through hand-bills on the streets today.

——Col. Turner, the Keeper of the Capitol, very justly complains of the habit the bad boys, (and there are not a few of them), have of cutting up and defacing the seats in the square. Not long since some wretch cut one of the marble balusters of a stairway so as to almost ruin it. Catch one of the miscreants and jail him as an example.

——The Phoenix Chemical engine company here received their caps and belts. The caps are of blue cloth, navy style, and the belts are of white with red border, and the word "Phoenix" behind. The members of this company are instructed by their Secretary, H. H. Roberts, to meet Friday evening, at 8 o'clock, for business.

Lying in Jail.

At present there are twenty-three prisoners in the county jail. All but four of this number are males. Almost all in the jail are in for larceny, and nearly all are colored. The condition of the jail is good, and the prisoners are made quite as comfortabe as circumstances will permit, though such a place is never homelike, by any means.

Insurance Deposits.

The law now requires of all Fire Insurance Companies doing business in this State a deposit of $10,000 in the State Treasury, in United States Bonds. The following companies have complied with the law in this respect: Columbus Insurance and Banking Company, of Columbus, Miss.; Niagara Fire, of New York; Liverpool, London and Globe, of England; North British and Mercantile, of England; Queen, of England; Commercial Union Association, of London; Insurance Company of North America, of Philadelphia.

Mayor's Court.

Malinda Jeffreys, a female dummy, not unknown to the police, was before the mayor yesterday, charged with forcible trespass, but the charge not being sustained, was dismissed.

Tuesday a tramp was escorted to the city limits and told to vamoose. Yesterday he came back, not satisfied with the bounce he got. It was thought probable that he longed for a home life, so His Honor sent him to jail for 30 days. His craving for quiet will doubtless be satisfied by that time.

Raleigh Female Seminary.

The commencement exercises of this school will be held on the 9th and 10th of June. On the evening of the the 9th Rev. William E. Hatcher, D. D., of Richmond, Va., will deliver the annual address, in the Salisbury street Baptist church. Dr. Hatcher is said to be an orator of great ability and has an extended reputation. The annual concert will be held in the college chapel on the evening of the 10th June.

The Workhouse Gang.

Eleven prisoners from the county workhouse, who have been at work for some time past on the bridge over Walnut Creek on the Holleman road, were carried back yesterday, having completed the bridge. A good deal of work is pulled out of these offenders, and if the city officials would organize a street chain gang it would pay, too.

Personals.

Rev. D. H. Buell, rector of the Episcopal church at Asheville, passed through this city yesterday, on his way to the convention at Fayetteville.

Rev. F. W. Eason, pastor of the Newbern Baptist church, was in the city yesterday, returning from the convention at Atlanta.

Did You Know?

That Brewster has a machinist who has served a regular time at the sewing machine business and is ready to repair all kinds of sewing machines and warrant them. Don't let anyone trade you out of a good machine because it is a little out of order, but send it to Brewster and save money. Sewing machine attachments, oil, needles, &c., for sale. A good plaiter for only one dollar, send for sample and if not satisfactory the money will be refunded.

may 15-3t. J. C. BREWSTER.

Odd Fellows Parade.

Virtue Lodge, colored Odd Fellows, observed its fifth anniversay yesterday by a street parade, headed by the Oak City brass band. The lodge is in a flourishing condition, and the members looked well. In the evening a festival was held at Metropolitan Hall, Married.

Yesterday morning a pleasant ceremony took place at the boarding house of Mrs. Tompkins, on Fayetteville street, being the marriage of Mr. T. A. Gilmer to Miss Lillian Clarke. The groom is a young gentleman of Richmond, Va., and the bride is the daughter of Maj. C. H. Clark, of Cary, in this county. The couple left for Richmond on yesterday's train.

Another Death.

We are pained to learn of the death of William R. Upchurch, which occurred at his mother's house on Davie street, last evening at 5 minutes to 12 o'clock, from typhoid pneumonia. He lately professed religion unde Miss Painter, and was endeavoring to walk in the path of the righteous. Funeral will take place to-morrow, at 10 o'clock, from the Person street church. Friends and relatives of the family are requestee to attend.

Horse the Engine.

There seems to be a general idea that it is advisable for the city to buy a pair of good horses and keep them stabled at the Rescue engine house. It is also thought to be desirable to keep at least four firemen on duty there at night, that is give them sleeping room in the building. The present delay in getting the steamer to fires is dangerous, while the idea of pulling such a machaine by hand is a palpable absurdity. But no, every alderman or official, fears to be the person to urge or vote for the purchase of stock, and so a sensible plan is cried down by the old cry of "expense." A very shortsighted policy is this, as the city and her people will some day find to their sorrow. Good luck, such as we have had, dosen't last always, and some of these times, we, too, will be numbered among the unfortunates. Then don't wait to be preached to about common sense and duty, but get ready for calamity and be prepared to fend it off. Horse the engine, have the men at hand and you can do good work with it at fires but not before this is done.

The Mendelssohn Quintette Club.

Our southern exchanges ring with admiration of the musical abilities of the members of this club and the deportment of the gentleman composing it; and our South Carolina neighbors have made an adopted daughter of the charming vocalist, Mrs. H. F. Knowles. The Columbia Register, of the 10th, instant has the following to say:

The Mendelssohn's concert last night was a splendid success. The house was all that the dimensions of our beautiful hall would admit, for it was crowded from pit to gallery with the elite of Columbia. It was an evation to Mrs. Knowles, now the adopted daughter of South Carolina, who holds her diploma as such from the citizen soldiery of the State. The Richland Volunteer Rifle Company, of which the fair Bostonian is an honorary member, was present in full uniform, and sat in reserved seats near the footlights.

The evening's entertainment was introduced by the "Overture of Semiramus," in which was combined the whole instrumental force of the company, and was a splendid piece of execution.

Mrs. Knowles next appeared in an air from Der Freischutz, and was received with unbounded applause. Her woman's heart must have swelled within her as the hearty Carolina cheer made the welkin ring. The applause having subsided, the air was sung with much taste and fine effect. But the adopted daughter of the Carolina riflemen could not escape, but was brought back, blushing with her honors, amidst thundering encores from all parts of the house. She then sung, with exquisite beauty and tenderness, "I Heard the Rippling Brooklets Sing," and retired amidst a shower of Columbia's choicest flowers. We have an idea that they moved the gardens for the occasion.

Then came Edward Heindl in his wonderful fantaisie of the flute, and we must say he took the starch out of all fluting machines we ever saw, for he fluted like a bird in an agony of music.

Bernard Listemann's violin concert was grand at times, and at others as the bow flew over the strings like electricity, the music trembled on the air with an exquisite vibration that carried the house amidst storms of applause.

The fantaisie for clarinette, by Ryan, was assuredly all that could be got out of a clarinette, and was also received by the house as a most artistic performance, and at times touchingly soft and sweet.

The 'Quintette" was a thing of joy forever, and when all those fiddles and instruments jumped into the arena, they screeched and screamed and scattered the music like dreams of joy and gambols of sweet sounds, until one countryman from the distant burg of Laurens turned to us in blank amazement and asked "What the dickens do they mean by it all?" To which we sagely replied, those are the variations, friend, and we confess they do vary exceedingly, but it is all on the card, and he retired, if not satisfied at least "reconciled." Our friend stood the Mennetto like a little man, but when they all capered out in the Valse Caprice, his lips trembled and his jaws gradually got loose in the socket, and he remarked, "Well, if that isn't putting a fine pint on fiddling, you may make me a fiddle string." He agreed with him.

The violoncello concert was our especial favorite. As Hennig took his seat with his big fiddle, as our Laurens friend called it, and began to haul across the strings, it sounded to us like a hoarse man clearing his throat for a song, but gradually the mastadon fiddle got sentimental, and discoursed music with a compass, yet soothing melancholy, which touched us to the soul. Mr. Hennig picked at the strings, and yet they discoursed music, and then it seemed to us he cudgeled and slapped the strings, and thus chided and abused, the violoncello seemed to spring into swift ecstacy, which the little fiddles took up, until every now was atilt in the musical race, and ran through the course like a flash of lightning.

The fair honorary member of the Volunteer again took the boards, and sung the "Spring Song" with perfect execution, but, as we thought, without the touch of genuine feeling which mingles the heart with symphony. The house, however, did not seem to agree with us, for the performance met with bursts of applause, which could not be pacified until Mrs. Knowles bowed before the foot-lights, and the accompaniment struck the well-known air of "The Last Rose of Summer," which was met with applause. This piece was sung with exquisite finish and great beauty of intonation, but yet we did not feel enough of the heart in it to meet our old fashion taste. It did not seem that this was by any means the last rose at all, for they absolutely showered roses on the stage at the feet of the fair songtress.

Here Mr. Ryan announced that the club, at the request of their friends, had consented to give another entertainment, and he hoped to see a large attendance on Saturday evening, and returned the thanks of the club for the large and appreciative attendance of the evening.

The performances of the evening was concluded by the overture. "If I were a King," in which all the instruments united with splendid effect, winding up the evening with great applause.

If it seems to the reader that we have lavished indiscriminal praise, we answer, go to-night and hear for yourself.

Secure your seats early at Heartt's Drug store for the concert of the Mendolssohn Quintette Club, Wednesday May 21st.

The Solargraph Watch.

Only $1.00 for a perfect time-keeper, hunting-case, and heavy plated chain, latest style. We warrant at for five years to denote time as accurately as a $100 Chronometer watch, and will give the exact time in any part of the world. It also contains a first-class compass, worth alone the price we charge for the time-keeper. For men, boys, mechanics, school teachers, travelers and farmers, it is indispensible. They are as good as a high-priced watch, and in many cases, more reliable. Boys think of it! A hunting case watch and chain for $1. The Solargraph watch is used by the Principal of the Somerville High School, and is being fast introduced into all the schools throughout the United States, and is destined to become the most useful time-keeper ever invented. The Solargraph watch received a Medal at the Mechanics' Fair, at Boston, in 1878. This is no toy, but is made on scientific principals, and every one warranted to be accurate and reliable. We have made the price very low, simply to introduce them at once, after which the price will be raised. The Solargraph watch and chain is put up in a neat outside case, and sent by mail to any address for $1. We have made the price so low, I lease send two stamps, if convenient, to help pay postage. Unheard of Bargains!

Who tries his best to please his friends
And in his labors never ends,
Bargains he'll give you when you call
For No. 10 is all and all.
Of other houses you hear them talk;
In Fayetteville street just take a walk
And only ask for No. 10,
Kept by the most ingenious of men,
And when his friends by chance drop in
Then forth he comes, Lord what a grin,
And to their wondering eyes displays
Such heaps of brackets and window shades.
His pictures are exposed to public view
And a variety of cord to suspend them too,
His looking glasses and toilet cases
Will help adorn your forms and faces;
Picture frames and mouldings too
In great variety, black, brown and blue.
His window cornices and lambrequins fine,
Will make your rooms and parlor shine.
Perforated mottoes, and white holly baskets.
And every other sort of stuff,
Of which he hopes to have enough.
So now he bids you all adieu
And wishes a happy new year too,
And not forget

Last May the phenomenon called "blood-rain" occurred in the Jebel Sekra, a summit of the Rist, at the western extremity of the Atlas range in Morocco. Professor Brun, of Geneva, has given account of his observations of the wonder producing circumstance. The "rain" appeared on the rocks in the form of bright red spots. It consisted of a mixture of silicious sand and very fine lime, with abundance of unicellular algæ of the species Protococcus fluvialis, and containing a large proportion of per oxide of iron.

The ideal hotel must unite three things: A perfect table, luxurious room accommodations, and attentiveness to the wants of the guests. When to these is united moderation in price, the attraction is almost irresistible. Such is par excellence the character of the celebrated New York hotel, the "St. Nicholas." An elevator makes all parts of the house easy of access and the location is central and convenient. 2t.

The Celebrated Seven Springs Iuron and Alum Mass.

This is decidedly the most useful, besides being the most efficient Family Medicine ever placed within the reach of any people. Its reputation extends far and wide, and its great popularity is due entirely to its own merits. For relieving Sick and Nervous Headache, it may be truly said, to have no equal. Dyspeptics find it just the remedy for their troubles. Mothers and daughters have long since discovered in its use a "panacea" for their worst ills; and now we have the testimonies of two eminent ministers of the gospel, from Southern cities, setting forth its specific effects in other more dreaded and troublesome diseases.

Rev. John F. Mayne, Theological Seminary, Columbia, S. C., writes: "Am afflicted with that terrible disease, 'Diabetes;' am using the 'Seven Springs Mass' with a considerable degree of relief; is the only remedy I have yet found to suit my case; want to continue its use until a cure is effected if possible. Send worth of the enclosed P. O. order immediately.

JNO. F. MAYNE.

Columbia, S. C., Jan. 23d, 1879.

Rev. J. D. Parker, of New Orleans, La., writes: "Having tried effectually the 'Seven Springs Iron and Alum Mass,' for Diarhea, Kidney afflictions, &c., I take pleasure in recommending its use in these complaints. In my case it affords immediate relief.

GRAND Hotel Property

In Richmond, Va., with Furniture, Fixtures, Horses, Omnibuses, and everything Complete for the Business, Fronting Capitol street and Capital Square, on Ninth street, The Loveliest spot in the South,

For Sale at Public Auction

By request of Messrs. Hunter & Pendleton, owners of the "St. Claire Hotel," located on the northwest corner of Grace and Ninth Streets, and now doing a large and rapidly increasing business, with a reputation equal to any Hotel in Richmond, I shall sell by public auction, upon the premises, on

THURSDAY, THE 29TH DAY OF MAY, 1879, AT 12 O'CLOCK, M.,

the Hotel as above described, with a front on Grace street of 88 3-12 feet and on Ninth street 163 3-12 feet with a depth of 130 feet on its north line, and a width on its rear of 73 3-12 feet. The Hotel is a partly four stories and partly three stories above basement. Contains sixty-three rooms. The Frame Dwelling adjoining, and fronting on Ninth street, which included in the sale, contains seven rooms, kitchen, laundry, servants' apartments, stable, carriage-house, &c., &c., situated in the geographical centre of the city, in front of the State Capitol square, with an elevation insuring healthful air and fine views of the surrounding country. This is justly considered the

Most Desirable Position for a Hotel

in Richmond, located as it is on one of the great thoroughfares of the city, where street cars are passing every few minutes, and within a few squares of the post office, custom-house and all public places, and yet withal, in a quiet and delightful locality, where property is steadily and continually improving in value. The sale of this property should commend itself to men of capital, and to hotel at large, who may desire now to secure permanently the location the best and most desirable of all others for that business in Richmond and in the entire South.

The furniture is comparatively new, and is of good modern style—such as is usually found in a first-class hotel.

The fixtures, &c., required for the Hotel business will be included in sale—such as China-ware, &c., &c.

The owners have concluded to sell positively on the day named. Parties may attend expecting to see the sale made on the day named. The terms will be made exceedingly liberal, and will be announced fully on day and hour of sale.

ROBT. B. LYNE, Auctioneer.

N. B.—This advertisement will not in any way interfere with the business of the hotel, and our friends and patrons will be made as comfortable and taken as good care of as heretofore. HUNTER & PENDLETON, Proprietors of St. Claire Hotel.
